CENTS.

238 1793 Head of Liberty to right. Rev. Chain of thirteen links. UNITED STATES OF AMERI. A splendid impression, showing all the finer hair lines; of brilliant steel color and uncirculated, but very slightly marred by one small nick on face, and a few in the hair; through which extends also a small crack to planchet. Very rare and desirable. (Monograph No. 1.)
239 1793 Duplicate of last number. Obverse, strictly good; rev., very good.
240 1793 Chain. Considerably circulated; good and scarce. (Monograph No. 2.)
241 1793 Chain. Duplicate; same condition.
242 1793 Wreath. A very fine impression, of fine olive color, the prominent hair-locks slightly flat, probably from weak dies, as the piece shows no marks of circulation. Rare and desirable. (Mono. 7-I.)
243 1793 Wreath. Very fair; date plain. (Mono. 5.)
244 1793 Liberty cap. A very beautiful and perfect specimen, of fine, even color. Uncirculated and excessively rare. From the cabinet of S. S. Crosby, the author of the "Early Coins of America," from whom this cent was bought by me less than a year ago for $125.
245 1793 Liberty cap. Everything plain. Good.
246 1793 Liberty cap; surface corroded; at least equal to last, if not slightly better.
247 1794 Young head. Sharp, perfect impression, of brilliant color and uncirculated. Rare. (Maris 6; Monog. 4.)
248 1794 Separate date. Perfect impression, of brilliant olive color. Sharp and uncirculated; very rare. (Maris 16; Monog. 10.)
249 1794 Ornate. Light brown color; extremely fine. (Maris 17; Monog. 11.)
250 1795 Thick planchet, lettered edge. Very fair; scarce.
251 1795 Thin planchet, date and legend small. Rev. "One cent" in centre. A beautiful impression, of brilliant, rich olive color. Scarcely any milling; uncirculated, and a rare variety.

252 1795 Thin planchet, wide date. Rev. "One cent" high. Fine.

253 1796 Draped bust. Sharp impression, the milling very light, and with the exception of a small double cut on left obv. field, uncirculated. Brilliant reddish color; very rare and desirable.

254 1798 Large date and legend. Very fine impression, in part corroded.

255 1799 over '98. A perfect impression, the fine hair lines not in the least worn or even rubbed, legend and date both sharp and perfect. Light brown color, and, irrespective of rarity of date, strictly fine. The only perfect specimen of this rare variety I have ever seen. Guaranteed genuine.

256 1799 Purchased as genuine. Good; not guaranteed.

257 1802 Rev. Stemless wreath. Very good; brown color.

258 1803 Barely, if at all, circulated; light olive color. A fine cent.

259 1803 From different dies. Very good. 2 pieces

260 1794 '96 (Lib. cap), '97, '98, and 1803. Very fair. 5 pcs.

261 1804 Perfect die. Slight corrosion on the entire surface, obv. and rev. Very fine, and has been estimated to be worth $50. Rare.

262 1804 Broken die. Very fair; date plain.

263 1805 Fine; nicked on edge.

264 1806 Very fine; rare.
